The evening was a success - not only in terms of visibility, but also as a unique opportunity to share [our] story, including through a short speech. (...) We made a number of meaningful connections as a result, and we truly see the event as a success - due in large part to the support and professionalism of FACCI.

“

We particularly appreciated FACCI's efficiency and responsiveness. Despite a demanding search requiring a highly qualified French-speaking profile with an established network in Australia, we were able to identify through their services a valuable candidate who has now joined our team. A very good collaboration between our two organisations.
