Title

PRE-FEASIBILITY STUDY FOR A DEDICATED SHIPPING AND LOGISTIC SOLUTION FOR MARITIME EXPORTS IN CENTRAL

Description

The International Finance Corporation (“IFC”) and Portucel Moçambique (“Portucel”), a subsidiary of The Navigator Company, a leading European manufacturer of eucalyptus pulp and office paper, are seeking a consultant to conduct a pre-feasibility study for shipping logistics solution in central Mozambique for cargo export. The consultant will be responsible for analyzing and evaluating various proposed alternatives, including rival terminals, transshipment options, road logistics, port infrastructure and the civil works required. The study will involve assessing existing and new required infrastructure, equipment, environmental and social risks and establish the optimal technical/financial solution to best meet the client’s business requirements. The study should also assess potential complementary revenue streams of any such various logistics solutions.

Key Responsibilities:

- Conduct technical data analysis and review studies previously done by the client.
- If necessary, originate new data needed to complement the assessment.
- Perform site visits
- Assess infrastructure and equipment requirements.
- Evaluate environmental and social risks.
- Develop financial model and business plans.
- Identify potential partnerships and cost-sharing opportunities.
- Prepare comprehensive reports and presentations.

Requirements:

- Extensive experience in maritime transport and logistics and engineering design and operations, preferably with Africa experience.
- Familiarity with road and railway assessment.
- Expertise in environmental and social standards (IFC Performance Standards and World Bank Environmental, Health, and Safety Guidelines).
- Financial modeling skills in the infrastructure sector.
- Previous experience in Africa is preferred.

The engagement is expected to last for 16 weeks, including fieldwork and site visits. Further details will be provided to bidding firms as part of the Terms of Reference.
