

Kris Lovell was just named as the new CEO of Safran Helicopter Engines Australia.

Kris Lovell was just announced as the new CEO of Safran Helicopter Engines Australia. In this position, he will lead the operational and commercial activities across the oceanic region, helping Safran to continue delivering quality helicopter engine maintenance.

Born and having worked his entire life in Australia, Kris Lovell brings over 20 years of extensive experience in the aerospace industry, having previously served as the Head of Strategy and Commercial at TAE Aerospace. His impressive career spans major and regional airlines, where he excelled in sales, customer support and supply chain management.

With a proven track record of achieving business outcomes, Kris is known for his ability to build strong customer relationships, lead teams to success, and drive change management. His leadership is marked by excellent communication skills, a keen eye for detail and a commitment to creating a positive workplace atmosphere.

Safran looks forward to the impact his expertise and vision will bring to the company.