Whether you're here to connect, unwind, or turn-up the energy, Media One Hotel is where it all happens.

QWERTY

Restaurant overview: Qwerty is a cosmopolitan restaurant, wine bar & grill at Media One Hotel, shaped by the taste and instincts of Quentin, the editor once tipped as the natural successor to Anna Wintour. He left the front row for a dining room built on the flavours that carried him through deadlines and across continents.

Every dish exists for a reason. A ramen born from a Shinjuku all-nighter. Carpaccio tied to a summer on the Riviera he'll never fully explain. Katz's-style pastrami learned during a night waiting for a story that never came. Plates whispered about by photographers, reporters and friends from every corner of the world.

Inside, Qwerty feels like a press room that grew into something warmer. Conversations move fast. Champagne can land before the menus do. The terrace keeps its own editorial rhythm, dogs included on weekends, and the room carries that unmistakable mix of curiosity, wit and quiet confidence.

The food is cosmopolitan with a real attitude. Halloumi with roasted grapes because sweetness saves you from long nights. From Fish and chips the proper British way, to Handcrafted pies that hit the comfort zone. Singapore noodles & ramen to schnitzel & bistro steaks. Vegan dishes that don't beg for praise and make sure you leave room for the famous Sustainable bread & butter pudding. The wine list is intentionally sustainable. Bottles from vineyards that care about the earth as much as the pour. Organic labels, Sea Change favourites, and champagne for the moments that demand it.

Qwerty's weekly rhythm reads like the social diary of a newsroom that knows how to unwind. Happy hour for sharper ideas and softer edges.

Business lunch for quick decisions.

Ladies' night, that feels like a ritual.

Pisco Sour & Ceviche night for the ones who still crave the thrill of travel.

Martini & Fries night because every journalist has an odd comfort.

Qwerty isn't trying to impress. It's trying to be honest. A place where stories start, collide, and turn into flavour. Quentin built it that way because the world he came from needed a table, not a runway.

Our tagline: Where the world's stories come to eat.

After Work Happy Hour

Description: When the newsroom day winds down, Qwerty switches to its favourite editorial ritual, the after-work happy hour. Quentin shaped this one himself, inspired by the deadlines that ran late, the colleagues who became confidants, and the global flavours that kept him fuelled from New York to Singapore. Enjoy cocktails and grazers from AED 39, each with a story behind it. The Martinis' nod to his London years, the schnitzel bites trace back to a Vienna assignment gone sideways, and the mini fish and chips land on the table the way comfort food lands in a press room: fast, honest, and necessary. Whether you're arriving straight from your laptop or simply dropping in for a taste of the world, this is where colleagues turn into mates and stories turn into toasts.

Biz Lunch

Description: Business lunch at Qwerty is fast, sharp and crafted for people who make decisions on the move. Quentin designed it for the editors, producers and creatives he once shared desks with, people who needed flavour without fuss and stories without delay. Enjoy a two-course menu for AED 90, that is delivered at a fast pace, over a 45-minute lunch experience; built around continental dishes with Qwerty's cosmopolitan twist. One day it's Sicilian tomatoes reminding him of a deadline he survived; the next it's a London-style pie or a Southeast Asian noodle bowl that kept him awake in a newsroom at 2am.

The menu changes weekly, seasonal, intentional, and paced so you can return to your day without rush. Add the dessert of the day for AED 10 if you're staying for the extra chapter.

"The adult happy meal" as he likes to call it, with the iconic Qwerty's fries. Crisp, clean, salty, perfect. Every Tuesday and Wednesday from 7pm, enjoy any martini paired with fries for AED 75. It's elegant, cheeky, unfussy and, somehow, exactly what you need.

Sunday Roast

Description: Qwerty's Sunday Roast comes from the part of Quentin's life he never quite left behind the long afternoons in London when newsrooms slowed down just enough for a proper plate of comfort. It is the classic you expect with the attitude you do not. Slow roasted meats carved to order, crispy roast potatoes, glazed carrots, red cabbage with cranberries, seasonal greens and all the trimmings that make a Sunday feel complete.

It is unhurried, warm and built for the kind of table where conversations stretch naturally. Two for one all wines. The terrace stays relaxed and friendly and yes, dogs are welcome. If you want sweet afters, go for it. If you prefer to stay savoury, that's perfectly fine. There are no rules here, just the kind of roast that feels honest and properly done to enjoy with your family.

AED 135 for the main or AED 175 for the full three course experience. Every Sunday from 12:30pm onwards. Carving, good company and that unmistakable Qwerty ease.

Qwerty's Fashion Week

Description: Paris calls and Qwerty answers. For one week the restaurant steps straight into Quentin's old world, the one where front rows moved fast, editors judged with a glance, and a simple glass of champagne could change the night. From 19 to 23 January Qwerty leans fully into the Parisian edit. Think sharp conversations, a room that feels like a fashion insider's after hours, and a crowd that knows how to dress without trying too hard.

Wear red and we hand you two house drinks on the house. Consider it our version of a press pass. The food follows the mood. Plates with attitude, stories behind every bite, and a wine list that keeps things both sustainable and slightly rebellious. It is Qwerty at its most cinematic, channelling the week when the city becomes a runway and every table feels like the place where the next story begins.

Date: 19 to 23 January

Timing: 5pm onwards

Price: Wear red and enjoy two complimentary house drinks

CIAO BELLA

Restaurant overview: Bella grew up in a busy Italian household where the kitchen was always louder than the living room. Her nonna ran the show, her father argued with the tomatoes, and she learned early that food was never just food. It was a way to talk, to flirt, to fight, to make peace again. And she loved all of it.

But there is the other side of Bella. The one her family pretends not to know. The girl who slips out with her friends after dinner, hair down, voice low, ready to stir a little trouble and charm her way through the night. Sweet at home, a little wicked after hours. That duality is the heart of Ciao Bella.

Our restaurant carries her spirit. Warm, generous, comforting when you want something classic and nostalgic. Then bold, cheeky, and a little unpredictable when the evening gets louder and the wine starts flowing. Rustic plates and refined touches. Traditions passed down through generations and contemporary twists Bella would never tell her nonna about.

Ciao Bella brings the vibrant energy of Italy to the heart of Dubai. A colourful and laid-back bistro, it's the go-to spot for fresh, authentic Italian flavours, from antipasti and pizzas to delicious pastas and Italian wines. Ciao Bella offers a no-fuss, relaxed atmosphere with a personalised service. A community restaurant where good food, great vibes, and Italian charm come together. Nothing staged. Nothing forced. Just genuine Italian warmth with a spark of Bella's mischievous charm.

Ciao Bella is not just Italian cuisine. It is Bella's world. A little familiar. A little naughty. Always irresistible.

Salute - Aperitivo

Description: Unwind the Italian way with Salute, our daily Aperitivo ritual inspired by Bella herself for only AED 35 for one drink and Cicchetti. She grew up watching her family signal the end of the day the same way every time: a clink of glasses, a small bite, and a moment to slow down before the night took on its own personality. Now in Dubai, Bella keeps that tradition alive, but with her own playful twist.

Whether she is wrapping up her very serious workday or convincing her friends that "just one drink" is never really one, Bella knows that every good evening starts with an Aperol Spritz, a crisp glass of wine, or a cocktail mixed just right, always paired with proper Italian Cicchetti.

Fonduta Venerdì - Fondue & Wine Pairing

Description: Fridays at Ciao Bella take their cue from Bella's favourite family tradition, the kind that turned a simple pot of melted cheese into an entire evening of stories, laughter, and whispered chaos. Back home, fondue night was when everyone loosened up, voices got louder, and her Nonna pretended not to notice when Bella and her cousins "accidentally" topped up their wine.

Fonduta Venerdì brings that same warm, indulgent energy to Dubai. Dig into endless Italian fondue made from a lush blend of Pecorino, Fontina, Parmesan, Taleggio, and Gorgonzola, served with all the right things to dip, nibble, and share. The team keeps the wine flowing, still or sparkling, because Bella always said cheese is good, but cheese with wine is where the magic happens.

And just when you think you can't go any further, we end with bottomless chocolate fondue. It's decadent, a little messy, and exactly how Bella likes her Fridays: long, delicious, and full of stories waiting to happen.
