In Hoi An, July

HHEAT WAVE... THE SAND IS LIGHTLY smoldering under our steps.
Heavy palms are quivering and gently rustling in a breeze.
The sun is at its highest and the carved dark wooden doors have been shut.
Naptime. It is summer in Hoi An.

On the wood table, a bowl of fresh fruit from the morning market.
Books, note pads, empty glasses, plates... all attest to a brief visit.
In the garden pond, carps are lapping amongst water lilies.
The red hibiscus flowers have closed up and the flame tree stands in full majesty at the heart of the garden. Its branches weave delicate lace patterns under the light.

In the background, the gentle sound of the rolling waves reminds us that the sea is just a stone's throw away.

We settle down. We take the time to savor the simplicity of the moment. Time stretches, bodies and minds unwind.

With Metiseko's new organic cotton collection, the brand is returning to its roots in Hoi An, where everything began 8 years ago. We wanted to create a heart-felt and warm collection, inspired by the tropical summer, traditional life and beautiful nature around Hoi An, reflecting the simplicity and friendliness of our home.
