

HR BREAKFAST

LEARNING SYSTEM DESIGN: HOW TO APPLY 100 YEARS OF RESEARCH ?

 Friday 26 April 2024

 7.30 AM - 10.00 AM

 FTCC Office

The way we learn is disrupted.... but 100 years of research can help us to address this challenge!

This session aims to equip managers who are dedicated to fostering people development and performance with a fresh or fortified vision on designing effective learning systems.

Agenda

7.30 AM - 8.30 AM

- Breakfast
- Signing of the book of Arnauld de Nadaillac "Developing People; 35 Years of Stories, Headaches & Insights"

8.30 AM - 10.00 AM

- The 6 concepts of efficient learning based on 100 years of research
- Application to 4 types of leadership development programs
- Workshop

Facilitator

Arnauld de Nadaillac

International People Development Expert

Arnauld de Nadaillac has 35 years of experience implementing learning and development systems for governments and companies in 14 countries.

He has been living in Thailand for the past 28 years. His interventions are based on the vision that "What we learn is easy to find, the challenge is How we learn".

