ENHANCING LOGISTIC EFFICIENCY FOR MANUFACTURING IN INDONESIA

Indonesia’s logistics and infrastructure landscape is transforming — and global manufacturers are taking notice.

Did you know?

- ✓ The world’s largest EV manufacturer has chosen West Java (Subang) as its new production base.
- ✓ Java Island accounts for more than 75% of Indonesia’s manufacturing industries. West Java alone hosts over a third of the nation’s industry, leveraging its proximity to Jakarta, major ports, and logistics networks
- ✓ The Patimban Seaport is rapidly emerging as a key logistics hub, strategically positioned to serve Greater Jakarta & West Java — enhancing connectivity and driving greater efficiency in both export and import activities for businesses and investors alike.

Join us to explore why global players are investing heavily in Indonesia’s logistics and manufacturing ecosystem, and how Subang Smartpolitan and Patimban Global Gateway Terminal are driving this transformation.
